GANG WATCHERS LINK WITH GUARDIAN ANGELS

On October 22nd 2005, Gang Watchers linked with New York's very own Guardian Angels with a simple phone call from it's founder ... Curtis Sliwa.

Mr. Sliwa, who was setting up another chapter in Sacramento that day, gave the go ahead call to Gang Watchers founder and current president, A. L. "LUCKY" Lucketta, to link up and to start looking for an area captain for a central valley chapter for both Guardian Angels and Gang Watchers. Fresno County, according to Gang Watchers, will be the next likely area for chapter development and then Tulare County.

From that call a kindred spirit developed and the specifics for when and where meetings will be held for both Guardian Angels and Gang Watchers will be announced through Gang Watchers web site – www.gangwatchers.org.

"Gang Watchers, still in it's early stages of growth, says Mr. Lucketta, was formed out of an act of criminal violence. When one of our local teenagers was gunned down, the call from God, continued Lucketta, was to create a neighborhood watch program that was run mainly by Christians. Knowing that our lives are accounted for by God, it makes better sense that Christians become the first line of defense for our families, friends, neighborhoods, churches and communities."

Second to the local call for a neighborhood watch program, was the need to draft new legislation that would actually help all neighborhood watch programs by giving them an on-line tool they can access. This on-line tool would place the pictures and profiles of every validated gang member who's been convicted of 3 gang related crimes on the state Attorney General's web site. Their profiles would stay on the web site until they get off of probation or parole. Doing this will assist the public and the police in their efforts to make us and our communities safe.

And primary to the above objectives, Gang Watchers wants to reach out to area gang members and lead them to Jesus Christ. Then Gang Watchers will direct them to an area Church where they'll receive love and counseling for themselves and their families.
